

The verbose-note style

This citation style is similar to `verbose` in that it prints a verbose citation similar to the full bibliography entry when an item is cited for the first time. All subsequent citations are pointers to the footnote containing the verbose citation. This style is exclusively intended for citations given in footnotes.

Additional package options

The dashed option

By default, this style replaces recurrent authors/editors in the bibliography by a dash so that items by the same author or editor are visually grouped. This feature is controlled by the package option `dashed`. Setting `dashed=false` in the preamble will disable this feature. The default setting is `dashed=true`.

The pageref option

By default, this style does not add a page reference to the footnote pointers, i.e., they are rendered as ‘see note 3’. If you want such references to be rendered as ‘see note 3, page 5’ instead, set the package option `pageref=true` or simply `pageref` in the preamble. This will add the page number to the footnote pointer whenever the footnote the pointer refers to is located on a different page or page spread (depending on the setting of the `pagetracker` option). The default setting is `pageref=false`.
